John - Here is the update I plan to provide to Art to upload to SEMs:

The Navy is in the process of implementing corrective actions to ensure that radiological remedies have been implemented in accordance with site decision documents. The FYR included a recommendation that the Navy conduct a long-term protectiveness evaluation of the radiological remediation goals (RGs) included in the decision documents.

In 2019, the Navy issued two draft addenda evaluating the long-term protectiveness of the RGs. The Navy finalized the first addendum, evaluating the protectiveness of the soil RGs, in June 2020. The Navy issued the second addendum, evaluating the protectiveness of the building RGs, in October 2019. In August 2020, EPA provided written comments to the Navy on the draft building addendum and is awaiting the Navy's response. The Region has consulted with EPA Headquarters (FFRO and OSRTI) as part of the evaluation because of the national issues raised by the Navy. The primary issue is the use of Argonne National Laboratory's RESRAD BUILD calculator to evaluate radiation risk to human health rather than EPA's Building Preliminary Remediation Goal (PRG) calculator.

Depending on the outcome of the evaluations, there may be a need for changes in retesting sensitivity and/or cleanup thresholds, or other changes to the remedies.

Karen—

Art is asking for updates on FYR actions by 9/1.

There are three FYR Actions being tracked in SEMs: 1) SVE implementation in Parcels B-1 and C; 2) the soil and building radiological RG addenda; and 3) the Navy's risk assessment methodology related to ARICs for VOCs in soil vapor. The planned completion dates are 12/31/20, 11/1/23, and 12/31/20 respectively.

For item #2, I'll give Art an update on status (i.e. soil addendum finalized; building addendum still a work in progress)

Can you get back to Art on items 1 and 3?
